

For Music Lover's

YOUR MUSIC WHERE YOU WANT IT, WHEN YOU WANT IT.

In the Kitchen

NEXGEN Controls offers an impressive range of audio/video products that easily control complex audio, video, and home theater components. Our products can store, organize, and send music to any room in the house from multiple sources, and provide a true cinematic experience in your home theater. Best of all it is not an all or nothing solution, start with 1 or 2 zones of audio and add more later, NEXGEN Controls Home Controller makes it easy for everyone to instantly enjoy their favorite music wherever they are, whenever they want. The Media Controller digitally stores the music collections of everyone in the family and delivers simultaneous audio streams over a wired or wireless home network. Utilizing online music and movie recognition, the Media Controller makes managing music collections a breeze. Music can easily be selected by artist, song, genre, or even album cover art.

In the Back Yard

In the Living Room

The Home Controller is the center of a complete home automation system. It's a sophisticated yet simple platform to control lighting, security, temperature and more throughout the home. We give you simple, centralized control over your lights, music, home theater, temperature and security system. Our wireless, IP based products integrate with your existing technology into one complete system, providing a new level of entertainment, comfort, safety and convenience to you and your family. Start with audio, add lighting, home theater security and climate control later.
