

Home Theater

NEXGEN Controls Home Theater Controller makes it easy to add intelligent control to your home theater at a truly affordable price. Allowing easy navigation and control using the included vivid on-screen display and System Remote Control.

But it doesn't stop there. The Home Theater Controller is also the center of a complete home automation system. It's a sophisticated yet simple platform to control lighting, security, temperature and more throughout the home.

How many remotes does it take to operate your home entertainment system?

THE POWER TO CONTROL YOUR ENTIRE HOUSE IN ONE REMOTE!

With its sleek, compact design and its ability to control any automated function in the home, the System Remote Control liberates you from your cluttered and confusing collection of remote controls. This System Remote Control puts home automation information and control right in the palm of your hand.

Imagine... Want to watch a DVD? One Remote. Want to watch Satellite? One Remote. Want to listen to the stereo? One Remote.

Then you can add to your system... want to turn off the lights, adjust the temperature, arm the security system, open the drapes? One Remote!

At NEXGEN Controls we give you simple, centralized control over your lights, music, home theater, temperature and security system. Our wireless, IP based products integrate with your existing technology into one complete system, providing a new level of entertainment, comfort, safety and convenience to you and your family.

How do you like to watch a movie? Let us program your favorite way! Imagine... just press play on the remote, the lights dim, the fireplace, turns on... the possibilities are endless!
